Engine Numbers

The engine number is located on a vertical rib on the left side of the block, just above the steering rack. The number can only be viewed from underneath. Engine numbers are ten digits long and break down as follows:

First and second digits: Year of manufacture

Third and fourth digits: Month of manufacture

Fifth and sixth digits: Day of the month of manufacture

Seventh and eighth digits: Hour of manufacture

Ninth and tenth digits: Minute of manufacture

If your engine number is prior to 000818xxx, it has Nikasil bores. These were extremely problematic and Jaguar switched to conventional iron liners thereafter.
